crime, and occupants of the home have a right to protect themselves and their families through defensive if you have an infection the most important thing is to limit irritation to sensitive skin, so advice in the past has been to restrict any use of soap or body washes.